

Experience the Magic of Harpa

Discover Icelandic music in Harpa on our guided tours

In the 8 years since Harpa opened its doors, it has firmly established itself as a major landmark and must-see site for tourists in Reykjavík. It is now in the top 3 tourist attractions in Reykjavík, along with Perlan and Hallgrímskirkja.

Below we have the pleasure of presenting two new types of guided tours. These are tours that delve into the artistic aspect of Harpa, allowing the visitor to enjoy live music and experience the building's amazing acoustics.

Guided Tour with Live Music

A guided tour of the building with an overview of Icelandic musical history, from medieval music to modern pop music. It takes place in Austurhliðin, a space with great acoustics and astounding views.

3,500 ISK 60 min.

Acoustical Guided Tour

Elsa Waage, an experienced opera singer who is also our guide, takes guests on a guided tour and demonstrates the acoustics live by singing traditional songs in one or more of our concert halls.

3,000 ISK 45 min.

Harpa Guided Tour

Experience the award-winning architecture of Harpa in a new way and visit areas that are not open to the general public. Learn how Icelandic forces of nature inspired the unique design and the amazing glass facade of the house.

2,750 ISK 45–60 min.

This should also interest you

How To Become Icelandic in 60 min.
A few times per week

Icelandic Sagas — The Greatest Hits
A few times per week

Múlinn Jazz Club — Weekly
Concerts at regular intervals

Sunday Classics — Recital series
Selected Sundays at 16:00

Iceland Symphony Orchestra
Regular concerts in Eldborg Hall

Iceland in a Box — A visual Tour
Every 30 min between 10:30–17:30

Contact us

Martin L. Sörensen
Assistant Box Office Manager

+354 528 5019
+354 824 4699

tours@harpa.is